CALIFORNIA RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY INSURANCE DISCLOSURE

This disclosure is required by California law (Section 10102 of the Insurance Code). It describes the principal forms of insurance coverage in California for residential dwellings. It also identifies the form of dwelling coverage you have purchased or selected.

This disclosure form contains only a general description of coverages and is not part of your residential property insurance policy. Only the specific provisions of your policy will determine whether a particular loss is covered and, if so, the amount payable. Regardless of which type of coverage you purchase, your policy may exclude or limit certain risks.

The cost to rebuild your home may be very different from the market value of your home since reconstruction is based primarily on the cost of labor and materials. Many factors can affect the cost to rebuild your home, including the size of your home, the type of construction, and any unique features. Please review the following coverages carefully. If you have questions regarding the level of coverage in your policy, please contact your insurance agent or company. Additional coverage may be available for an additional premium.

READ YOUR POLICY CAREFULLY. If you do not understand any part of it or have questions about what it covers, contact your insurance agent or company. You may also call the California Department of Insurance consumer information line at 1-800-927-4357.

“The largest single investment most consumers make is their home and related property. In order to best protect these assets, it is wise for consumers to understand the homeowner’s insurance market. Consumers should consider the following:

- Read your policy carefully and understand the coverage and limits provided. Homeowner’s insurance policies contain sublimits for various coverages such as personal property, debris removal, additional living expense, detached fences, garages, etc.
- Keep accurate records of renovations and improvements to the structure of your home, as it could affect your need to increase your coverage.
- Maintaining a list of all personal property, pictures, and video equipment may help in the case of a loss. The list should be stored away from your home.
- Comparison shop for insurance, as not all policies are the same and coverage and prices vary.
- Take time to determine the cost to rebuild or replace your property in today’s market. You can seek an independent evaluation of this cost.
- You may select a licensed contractor or vendor to repair, replace, or rebuild damaged property covered by the insurance policy.
- An agent or insurance company may help you establish policy limits that are adequate to rebuild your home.
- Once the policy is in force, contact your agent or insurance company immediately if you believe your policy limits may be inadequate.
